A POINT ON WHICH ALL PHYSICIANS

AGRED. Out of ten thousand regular physicians you cannot find one who will not say that Stimulants and Invigorants are absolutely necessary in medical practice. And yet in by-gone years humane practitioners have besitated to administer them, because the fierdish ingenuity of wretches who make merchandise of human infirmities, had so polluted and deteriorated them that the remedy was deemed as dangerous as the disease. This perplexity is happily done away with. Physicians know, because the first analytical chemists of the age have demonstrated the fact, that Hosterren's CELE-BRATED STOMACH BITTERS are absolutely and eatirely free from all pernicious elements. Hence they have been introduced into the United States Army, and are accepted, whereon the testimony of the wise, the intelligent and the philanthropic is rated at its just value, as the best protective against and cure for all diseases arising from impurity in the air or other unhealthy climate influences, that has ever been tested by experience. In cases of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, we state without qualification or reservation, that the Bitters are as nearly infallible as anything prepared by buman skill can be.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

Farther Particulars of the Rebel Ram Webb-Kirby Smith Surrenders. NEW YORK, May 2.- The steamer Guiding Star has arrived here from New Orleans, having left there on the 25th ut. The rebel ram Webb passed New Orleans under a heavy fire from the war vessels, the Lackawanna sending a two hundred and fifty pound shot through her bows. The Hollyhock, Lieutenant Commander Gherardi, was ready to follow, and kept close upon the track of the Webb until twenty-eight miles below the city. The rebels saw the sloop-of-war Richmond ready for action, and turned for the chore, the Hollyhock going straight at her.

The Webb's officers and crew fired her in several places and fled to the swamps. Boats from the Hollybook boarded her and saved one man, who had been abandoned asleep. They were unable to put out the flames, from the inflamable nature of the cargo and fear of the explosion of the magazine. The Webb was armed with three guns, one a thirty-two-pounder. She was commanded by Reed. Two of the crew have given themselves The New Orleans Times reports that the steamer General Hodges came out of Red river on the 23d ultimo, under a flag of truce, for the purpose of negotiating with Colonel Sprague,

Chief of Staff to General Pope, for the surrender of Kirby Smith, and his force. Colonel Sprague left Cairo on the gunboat Lexington, for the purpose of meeting the General Hodges at the mouth of the Red river, and there can be little doubt that Kirby Smith has surrendered his entire force. The terms of surrender are those proffered by Grant to Lee. The Lexington and Hodges were, at last accounts, anchored at Hog Point, a few miles below the mouth of the Red river. The surrender of the rebel Secretary of the Navy, Mallory, at Pensacola, is confirmed, Captain Pickens, who has forsaken the rebel cause, has issued an address to the people of Louisiana. The rebel General Chalmers is reported murdered in Texas. Advices from Brazos state that Cortinas has again abandoned the Imperial cause, and occu-p ed Saltillo and Monterey, and part of his men are said to have dashed into Matamoras; and Mejl has sent to Vera Cruz, for reinforcements. Bagdad is also said to be occupied by three thousand unarmed men, under Cortinas, and it was thought Matamoros soonwould be taken by them. Deserters are coming in from Texas, and enlisting in our army at Brazos. Haaana advices to the Sth uit, and Vera Truz to the 13th nlt, have been received. The

The Cause of the South Considered Lost-The Firing Into the Niagara and Sacramento.

The arrival at New York, of the steamer Scotia, from Liverpool gives the following additional European advices: The Times thinks that unless the South consents to re-enter the Union, the end is as far off as ever, but as the North shows evidence of liberality, and as slavery is already balf extinct and verging on its final doom, the Times thinkelthat reconciliation is possible, but come what may England will await the issue with the steady forbearance of neutrals, but

PRESENTERY OF THE POTOMAC -This body has been in session at the New York avenue Church since Monday, and among other busi. ness transacted was the admission of Mr Jas. G. Johnson into the ministry. The committee on the Metropolitan Presbyterian enterprise were directed to report at the next meeting, to which the consideration of the affairs at the First Church of Alexandria were also referred. Rev. G. M. Hair, of the White Water (Indiana) Presbytery was received as a member. The body adopted the following resolutions in relation to the national fast:

Resolved, That the Presbytery of the Potomac hails with unmingled satisfaction the proclamation of our Chief Magistrate, President Johnson, calling the nation to its knees to bemoan with humble, penitent, and contrite hearts the sad and painfully mysterious calamity which has befallen us, and as also indicating a full and hearty recognition of that superintending Providence in our national affairs which so strikingly characterized the official acts of our late beloved, honored, and lamented Chief Magistrate.

Resolved, That this Presbytery rejoices in the unbesitating conviction that this utterance response in the religious sentiment and feeling not only of this community, but of the entire nation, without respect to sect or denomina. tion, and therefore earnestly recommend to all the people under our care to assemble together in their respective places of worship on the appointed day, and hold such services as may be considered appropriate to the sad and mel-

HOUSE BURNERS.—On Monday Sergt. Skip-pon making his search for the evidence supposed to connect Ben Harrison (who is now in jail, charged with the attempt to burn the house of John Collins, on 10th street near Ford's Theatre,) with other incendiary and burglary acts, found a little evidence pointing toward the origin of the fire in the alley, between 7th and 8th and M and N streets north, last Saturday morning. The evidence was that a colored woman named Mary Ridout, who lives in the 8th street front of that Square, had a quarrel with the occupants of the frame house adjoining Mr. Barnes's stable, and on Thursday evening she declared that they should leave that alley. She would make them leave if she had to burn them out. Friday night, or properly speaking, Saturday morning the fire occurred in the colored quarters threatened by Mary. Sergeant Skippon arrested Mary Rid-ont on Monday, and Justice Thompson committed her for a further hearing. POLICE CASES - George Jones and William Calvert were arrested Monday by officer R Johnson for the larceny of a black silk dress, valued at $10, the property of Ann E. Sardoe Justice Thompson held Jones to bail and com-

Affairs in Georgetown. THE NEW MARKET .- As the Corporation of Georgetown has decided to accept the New Market from the contractor, it is a proper time to describe the building, which is certainly creditable to the town and an ornament to the neighborhood in which it is located.

The building is erected on the site of the antiquated and dilapidated shed which for many years was the town market. Fronting forty feet on Bridge street it extends 211 feet to the canal. From the Bridge street front, 110 feet of the building is two stories high. The front is of pressed brick, with handsome door ways and ornamental windows, designed for lighting and easy ingress and egress to and from the large hall in the second story, which is approached by a stairway six feet wide, and a platform extending right and left. This upper story has a fine concert or ball room Si feet by 37 in the clear, with a ceiling 18 feet high, finely plastered and ornamented; furnished with all the modern improvements for water, gas, and ventilation, making it one of the finest halls for public purposes in the District. Connected with it are two handsome ante-rooms, each being 16 by 23 in size, and furnished to correspond with the main hall. Over the front a very neat and appropriate belltry is constructed, adding greatly to the appearance of the building. The doors are all of the circular head pattern, and the windows are twin windows with circular heads, except those orna-mented windows in the front gable walls, glezed with handsome stained glass.

The market is entered by eight handsome doorways in each side, is lighted during sale hours by sixteen circular head twin windows in each side and two large sky light ventilators, constructed upon an improved plan, and so arranged that they may be opened or closed by cords from the lower floor. This sales hall is also furnished with all the conveniences for water and gas in abundance. The office of the presiding officiary, or market master, where are to be deposited the standards of weights and measures, is a neatly constructed room under the entrance to the concert hall, and is so elevated that from it that important official may see at a glance where he is wanted in any part of the market. The estimated cost of the market, complete, will be $48.005, and the committee having the market in charge anticipate the speedy remunera-tion of the town Architect, S. D. Button, of Philadelphia; contractor and builder, Charles C. Carman, of Philadelphia; painters and glaziers, McNeil & Bro.

shows how ornamental a structure can be made for market purposes. Had not Congressional action interfered in the case of Washington Center Market, and had the handsome plans adopted by the Corporation been carried out, an edifice would have been raised really an ornament to the avenue. To all those who imagine that a market building must be necessarily unsightly we commend a view of the new Georgetown market. Since the beginning of the rebellion the Maryland Annual Conference, which was not represented in the convention, has, as a body, persistently avoided any ex-pression of opinion upon the question of loyal-

[From the Alexandria Journal, May 1.] Scouts from Fredericksburg report that that ty and vicinity need the protection of the Government against rebel officers and soldiers, disbanded from Lee's army, who are now maranding upon the provisions and property of the inhabitants. Young men belonging to respectable families, who have been in the army, swear they will not work for a living, and devote themselves to plunder. Application has been made to Gen. Augur for a Provost Marshal's establishment at Fredericks-burg to protect the citizens in their peaceful pursuits. The same thing will have to be done throughout Virginia. The citizens of Fredericksburg seem to have plenty of specie and greenbacks, and purchase commodities brought up the Raspahannock; but in the country surborhood. Gen. Tidball, in command of the artillery brigade of the 9th army corps, arrived in this city this afternoon, and took up his headquarters in the building fermerly occupied by Gen. Slough, near the post office.

We were this morning informed by General Slough, our Military Governor, that in consequence of orders received from a superior of-ficer, he had tampone of the con-templated action in turning over to the city au-thorities certain functions previously belong-ing to them, but now exercised by the military power. We are very sorry to hear that such is the fact, but we presume that there is good and sufficient reasons for this action. We understand that it was in contemplation by tae General to complete the arrangement between the military and civil authorities to-day. As the suspension of this action is announced as being merely temporary, we have hopes that in a few days we shall hear of its being resumed. THE FIRING OF RICHMOND-LETTER PROM GENERAL EWELL .- The following is an extract of a letter from the rebel General Ewell, explaining the partial burning, etc., of Richmond, during its evacuation by the rebet army. It is addressed to a relative near Washington, and is dated at Fort Warren, and love."

"I am abused for burning Richmond. It was burned by the mob. There were no troops to keep order. I had teld the principal citizens, months before, what would happen, and urged them to form a constabulary force to keep order. But they would not, only three persons offering their services, when there were hundreds doing nothing. The fire hose was cut, and the arsenal burned by the mob. I had taken every precaution possible, and the peo-ple must blame themselves. To prevent misstatements as regards our capture, I would state that we were ordered to fellow Anderson; that after driving back an attack on our wagons we found Anderson cut off from those of Lee's army in front, and the 6th corps came after me, attacking my troops. Anderson failed, after a trial, in breaking through those in his front; and my men, entirely surrounded, fighting over ten times their number, were captured or slain." THE PREDICTION OF NOSTRADMADS .- MOST of our readers will recollect that at the commencement of the present civil war the following prediction of Nostradamus, which, it is said can be found in the second volume of his "Centuries," was greatly published in the

"About that time (1861) a great quarrel and controversy will arise in a country beyond the seas (America,) and many poor devils will be hung, and many poor wretches will be killed by a punishment other than a cord. Upon my faith you may believe me, the war will last feur years, at which none should be surprised or astonished, for there will be no want of hatred and obstinacy in it. At the end of that time, prostrate and almost rained, the people will re-embrace each other in great joy

Nostradamus was a French physician, phi-losopher and prophet, born in 1533 who, after meeting with great success in the first named capacity, turned his attention to astrology, and in 1555, who published his "Centuries," a work of predictions. In 1558 he foretold the remarkable death of Henry I., which took place at a touanament in the spring of 1559, and is said also to have predicted the death of Charles I., of England, Louis XVI., and the elevation of Napoleon to the empire of France.
